

Founding member of Blue Water Pride dies

PORT HURON - David Quinn, a founding member of Blue Water Pride, died last week after a long battle with diabetes.

Quinn served the community from 1995 until stepping aside in 2000 to focus on his health. He served as a board member, the Blue Water Pride Social Chairperson and on the Sarnia-Port Huron International Pride Committee.

While enduring many of the complications associated with diabetes, Quinn had been on the donor list waiting for a kidney transplant.

Arrangements are incomplete at this time.
